Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-66 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-62 of U.S. Patent No. 6,696,473. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because combining the same compounds in both applications with a known drug for the same use is prima facie obvious. The compositions are used for essentially the same diseases.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 30-34, 37-38, 41-49 and 59 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, because the specification, while being enabling for "treating or ameliorating", does not reasonably provide enablement for "preventing or modulating" the various diseases or disorders or symptoms thereof. The specification does not enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to use the invention commensurate in scope with these claims. ***

Although these type claim language have been allowed in the parent case, the office is not rejecting them with the director's approval and signature if required. Basically these claims are considered "reach through" claims and are not sufficiently enabled. The data provided in the instant specification does not support for such vast claims to such vast methods of use. Claims especially to "modulating the activity of the nuclear receptor" are no longer permitted because one cannot ascertain the metes and bounds of such a claim. Furthermore, the language of treating, "one or more symptoms of a disease or disorder" or "complications thereof", should be deleted and replaced with conventional language like, "A method for treating atherosclerosis or diabetes, etc.

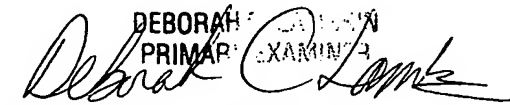

One of ordinary skill in the art would have to practice unduly to find out which symptoms, which complications, which diseases are treated or ameliorated under the nuclear receptors and more so which diseases are prevented and modulated as claimed. The specification failed to provide sufficient data to support these claims.

It is suggested that application remove all the vague and speculative language to overcome this rejection. Applicant is invited to contact the examiner further clarification.
